UNITY CANDIDATE HAS RECORD VOTE WIN IN LETHBRIDGE ELECTION

Poll Considered Test for Social Credit Sees Alberta Government Candidate Defeated by 770-Vote Majority—Complete Reversal Shown in Only Rural Poll of the Riding

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Dec. 2 (P).—In its first bid to the electorate in Southern Alberta, the Unity forces won a record vote victory over Social Credit in the Lethbridge Provincial by-election today. The final vote was Dr. Peter M. Campbell, Unity candidate, 3,980; A. J. Burnap, Social Credit nominee, 3,210. It gave Dr. Campbell a majority of 770 votes.

Pioneer physician of the riding, Dr. Campbell, endorsed by the Liberals, Conservatives, some members of the United Farmers of Alberta, and the People's League of Alberta, was in the lead from the start of the count.

The vacancy was created through the resignation of Hans E. Wight, Social Credit.

A TEST POLL

First by-election in Southern Alberta since the general election of 1935, it was considered a "test poll" for Social Credit.

In the 1935 general election, Wight polled 3,700 out of a total of 6,641 in a four-cornered race with Liberal, Conservative and Labor candidates.

A man who "rode range" in the pioneer days, Dr. Campbell has lived in Southern Alberta for thirty-seven years. He first settled among the Mormon pioneers at Cardston, now Alberta's "Temple City," south of here, and in 1906 came to Lethbridge.

Born at Adamson, Ont., February 9, 1872, Dr. Campbell obtained his public school education there, and at the Renfrew High School, from where he went to Queen's University. He obtained his medical

Italy Not to Be Intimidated By Hostile Economic Agreements

MILAN, Dec. 3 (P).—Premier Mussolini's Il Popolo d'Italia today informed Great Britain, United States and France editorially that Italy would not be "intimidated" by economic agreements hostile to Fascism.

The editorial was the second sarcastic attack on democracies published by the newspaper this week. Today's article used an editorial of The New York Times as a springboard for an assertion that a threat of economic war the only reply was "timely and wholehearted preparation of spirit and arms."

It said there was no question of the three democracies employing military measures against dictatorships.

"The United States leaves to the European democracies the task of confronting the totalitarian states on the field of arms," the editorial said.

LOST LEADERSHIP

The New York Times, in an editorial November 30, declared "the United States has lost its leadership in world affairs" because "treacherous governments and dictators have become convinced that for no cause short of actual invasion will the United States initiate or join in any effective movement to assure world peace."

It suggested "effective peace measures" be taken to re-establish leadership, including "private and public co-operations between Britons and Americans and others."

KIMBERLEY MAN FROZEN TO DEATH

Body of Lost Hunter Found Only One Mile From Road To Safety

CRANBROOK, B.C., Dec. 3 (P).—Charles Taylor, forty-one-year-old Kimberley, B.C. man, was found frozen to death today near here. Taylor left here on Monday with Watson Crum on a shooting trip and became lost when the two men separated. Crum returned safely.

A search party was sent out and it discovered the missing man's body a mile from a road which would have brought him to safety.

Taylor had been living at Kimberley, a few miles north of here, for twelve years. He is survived by his widow and a ten-year-old son.

Opposition Forces Keep Government on Defensive in House

Minister of Health Taken to Task by Conservatives—Pensions for Blind Now in Effect, Members Told—More Estimates Passed

MAJOR votes in the Lands, Finance and Provincial Secretary's Department were passed by the Legislature in committee on supply yesterday afternoon. The Government was put on the defensive under a dual fire from Conservative and C.C.F. oppositions, which united to keep up a running fight against increase in appropriations for the coming year, lack of fresh provision for municipal aid, and on other matters.

A flood of new bills entered as the House rose for the day. Dr. Frank Patterson, Conservative leader of the Opposition, took the Provincial Secretary to task for his statement last year that one in five people in British Columbia were suffering from the effects of social diseases. The truth was, he said, that not quite 2 per cent of a restricted class of persons most likely to be affected, showed any signs of

Tercentenary of Bellringers Is Celebrated

The music of the bells of Old London afford Canadian visitors to the British capital one of the thrills of a lifetime, and through the medium of radio the mellow tones of the bells are familiar to listeners in all parts of the world. Our picture, taken in the belfry of St. Paul's Cathedral, shows members of the Ancient Society of College Youths ringing the changes to celebrate the tercentenary of the society. On May 29, last, these men rang a peal of 3,007 changes in four hours and three minutes to commemorate the Coronation of the King and Queen.

Exploding Bomb Scatters Japanese Troop Parade In Main Shanghai Street

One Soldier Reported Killed And British Citizen Injured Slightly

HOSTILITIES MOSTLY CONFINED TO AIR

SHANGHAI, Dec. 3 (P).—A bomb exploded in Nanking Road today as 5,000 Japanese troops marched through Shanghai in a victory parade. The parade scattered immediately.

The explosion was about one block from the Wing On department store. Soldiers ran in all directions. One Japanese soldier was reported killed.

The parade had passed through International Settlement side streets along the boundary between the French concession and the settlement and entered Nanking Road without incident.

The bomb was said to have been thrown by a Chinese who, after it left his hand, was shot dead by a Chinese constable.

One British citizen was struck by a bomb fragment and slightly injured.

TROOPS RESTORE ORDER Japanese troops restored order quickly. One detachment surrounded the district, bayonets gleaming, while the rest of the parade reformed its ranks and continued down Nanking Road.

Hundreds of Japanese troops were passing the Sincere and Wing On department stores, where hundreds were killed by projectiles shortly after Shanghai warfare broke out. Just as the bomb was thrown.

Scotland Yard Gets Its Man With "Flannel Foot" Jailed at Last

LONDON, Dec. 2 (P).—The man whom prosecuting counsel styled "Flannel Foot," the burglar who eluded Scotland Yard for twenty-six years, was sentenced today to five years' penal servitude on wholesale charges of burglary.

Williams actually faced only six specific charges, but himself intimated his wish to plead guilty to thirty-four additional counts.

"Flannel Foot's" frequent use of a bicycle to make his getaway earned him the additional nickname of "Bicycling Demon."

During twenty-five years of depredations, the elusive thief gave authorities only two periods of rest—during the Great War and last Summer when he took time off for a vacation at Brighton. It is believed he joined up with the British army and did his bit in the war.

New Measure to Govern Disputes In B.C. Industry

Premier Pattullo Announces Plan to Introduce Comprehensive Legislation—Both Labor and Employers to Have Right to Organize—Bill Provides for Conciliation and Arbitration

AFTER a caucus which sat until after midnight, Premier Pattullo announced yesterday that the British Columbia Government would proceed with an industrial disputes law at this session. The Bill to be presented will be a compromise measure, it is understood, Liberal supporters of the Government asking for a redraft of some of its original sections.

Powers in the proposed bill were set out by Premier Pattullo as follows:

RIGHT TO ORGANIZE—Both labor and employers to be given the right to organize. Organizations formed under the Act must register with the Department of Labor, giving details of organization. In the event of dispute between labor and employer, either party may appeal to the Minister of Labor, who will, within period fixed by the Act, send conciliation commissioner to endeavor to settle dispute. Conciliation commissioner must, within definite period fixed by Act, unless extended by consent of both parties, advise the minister of the result of his efforts.

Fire Destroys City Residence

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the furnishings and fixtures at 2819 Rose Street, shortly after 11 o'clock last night. The tenants were absent at the time.

Equipment from the city fire department responded to the alarm, turned in at 11:13 p.m., but by then it was too late to save the premises. The loss is said to be partially covered by insurance.

KEEPING PORT OPEN MONTREAL, Dec. 2 (P).—Surprised port authorities learned today Montreal's ocean shipping season won't be closing for a few days yet. They were all ready to shut the harbor down for the winter, so far as the ocean trade went, when word came that one more ship was plying toward the big river port.

DRASTIC CHANGE ANNOUNCED BY WAR OFFICE IN MAKE-UP OF IMPERIAL ARMY COUNCIL

Raising Coffins In Shanghai Area To Use for Fuel

SHANGHAI, Dec. 2 (P).—The fuel shortage has become so acute in Shanghai that Chinese are digging up coffins in the surrounding countryside and selling the wood for fuel. Today's price for coffin wood was three cents a bundle.

Huge Crowd Grooms King In Capital

LONDON, Dec. 2 (P-Havas).—The King returned tonight from a two-day tour of the Duchy of Cornwall to be greeted at Paddington Station by a huge crowd, despite a driving rainstorm. He proceeded immediately to Buckingham Palace.

The heavy downpour which greeted his return had pursued the sovereign everywhere on his tour today. This morning he visited Taunton, where he was welcomed by 4,000 children. He also visited Stoke-under-Hamdon and en-trained for London from Bath.

NOT SATISFIED WITH COOKING

Sixty Forestry Workers at Englishman's River Chase Chef From Camp

NANAIMO, Dec. 2 (P).—Because, they said, they were not satisfied with conditions, sixty of the 110 "employees" of the British Columbia Forestry Project Camp at Englishman's River, near here, gave their camp cook the "hobo's host" shortly before lunch hour yesterday and refused to obey camp officials.

The camp was reported quiet last night, with a possible showdown between men and Government officials set for this morning. It was understood here that officials had left Victoria for the camp to tell the men to get on with the job or leave the camp premises.

SOME DISSATISFACTION

Provincial Police who went to the camp yesterday afternoon disclosed there had been some "dissatisfaction" over conditions, and the men had chafed the cook from the kitchen, but there was no other disorder. Police did not say whether the cook had returned to the camp.

Englishman's River is located twenty-three miles from Nanaimo, and the men employed there were, it was said, recruited by the Provincial Forestry Department from the single unemployed on the Mainland.

Prospectors Are To Meet Members

VANCOUVER, Dec. 2 (P).—A representative group of British Columbia prospectors said here tonight they had sent invitations to several members of the British Columbia Legislature to meet them here Saturday night and discuss a number of proposed changes to the Mineral Act and other mining legislation before the Provincial House.

LADY KINGSFORD-SMITH MARRIES EXECUTIVE

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 2 (Friday) (P).—Lady Kingsford-Smith, widow of Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, famous Australian long-distance flyer, and Alan Tully, corporation executive, were married here today. Sir Charles, who disappeared in November, 1935, while on a projected England-Australia flight, legally was pronounced dead April 1, 1936.

EGYPTIAN GREEN SHIRTS ARRESTED

CAIRO, Dec. 2 (P-Havas).—More than 300 members of the Egyptian Green Shirt Nationalist Organization have been arrested in the round-up resulting from an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Premier Mustapha Nahas Pasha last Sunday. The press reported tonight. No official figures have yet been released.

ITALY SIGNS ACCORD WITH AUSTRIA

ROME, Dec. 2 (P).—Italy today signed a commercial accord with Austria similar to one concluded with Hungary in November. Economic observers said the Hungarian pact was negotiated to lighten the financial burden placed on Italy by the 1934 Rome protocols which gave Austria and Hungary preferential markets in Italy.

WELLINGTON, Dec. 3 (P-Reuters).—Modeled after the bill passed by the British Parliament, physical fitness and recreation legislation has been endorsed by the New Zealand Legislative Council.

Viscount Gort, V.C., Succeeds Sir Cyril Deverell as Chief of Imperial General Staff—Admiral Sir Harold Brown Becomes Master-General of Ordnance—Three Members Resign

LONDON, Dec. 2 (P).—The War Office tonight announced drastic changes in the Army Council. Three of the four military members of the council have resigned and been replaced, including the chief of the Imperial General Staff.

The new appointments are: Major-General Clive Gerard Liddell, succeeding General Sir Harry H. S. Knox, adjutant-general.

Engineer Vice-Admiral Sir Harold A. Brown, director-general of munitions, producing since 1936, retains that title and assumes the duties of Master-General of Ordnance, succeeding Lieut.-General Sir Hugh Elles.

The fourth military member is Lieut.-General Sir Reginald, quartermaster-general, who remains.

OTHER CHANGES In addition to these changes it was announced Admiral Brown will be assisted by Lieut.-General M. G. Taylor, who is appointed deputy master-general of ordnance.

Colonel Sir Ronald Adam is appointed deputy chief of the Imperial general staff, a position vacant recently.

The changes, it is explained, are designed by the Government, and particularly by Leslie Hore-Belisha, War Secretary for the past six months, to bring new blood to the high command and to hasten the vast task of reorganizing the army to enable it to adapt itself to the latest technique of warfare.

It was recalled appointment of Admiral Brown last year to the army council stirred up military

WOULD MAKE VAST SURVEY

Premier Bracken Urges Agricultural and Economic Study of Prairie Lands

WINNIPEG, Dec. 2 (P).—An agricultural and economic survey to define the uneconomic areas of the Prairies and subsequent removal of settlers from those areas to fertile lands elsewhere, were urged by Premier John Bracken, of Manitoba, before the Rowell Commission today as one of the major problems confronting Western Canada.

None of the Prairie Provinces was capable of dealing with the situation, but in the interest of the nation as a whole the situation required early action, he said.

The problem was one of many arising from Canada's early land settlement policy, in which unsuitable and widely-scattered areas were settled, Mr. Bracken said.

POOR AREAS SETTLED Opening up for grain-growing purposes the short grass grazing land in Southeastern Alberta and Southwestern Saskatchewan was the classic example. Smaller unsuitable areas had been settled in Manitoba, but with less drastic results.

The first difficulty was to determine the boundaries of the sub-marginal areas, as well as the marginal, then to persuade the people to leave and, finally, to find locations for them and finance their removal, he said.

"It would not seem a sound policy," he said.

Making New Bridge Safe For Traffic

NEW WESTMINSTER, Dec. 2 (P).—Officials of the British Columbia Department of Public Works said here today that as a precaution against further accidents on the new Pattullo Bridge, following a seven-car collision Tuesday, which sent five persons to hospital, a sand machine will be placed on duty on the bridge.

Officials said they were considering placing "slow" signs and centre line markers on the structure as well.

PREMIER IN FLORIDA LAKE WALES, Fla., Dec. 2 (P).—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King arrived here today from his home in Ottawa for a brief vacation and rest at the Winter estate of George T. Fulford, at Mountain Lake, near here. The Prime Minister said he probably would visit other parts of Florida before returning home.

RESULTS EXPECTED The deliberations are certain to go far toward deciding whether organized labor is to end the fractional strike of recent years and present a united front.

The C.I.O. has been fighting for organization of all the workers in each mass production industry into one big union, while the A.F. of L. has been advocating organization along craft lines.

Green and Lewis, one-time coal miners, who now have a combined following estimated by labor leaders at 7,000,000 workers, were tight-lipped and apparently a little grim on their way to the conference room.

COUPLE BOUND BY ARMED ROBBERS

Elderly Victims Roughly Handled In North Vancouver—Bandits Escape With $200

NORTH VANCOUVER, Dec. 2 (P).—Two bandits, one believed armed and banded, and a third, a woman, Mrs. A. Barracough, at the rear of their Windsor Road home tonight and escaped with $200 cash.

After a half-hour's struggle, Mr. Barracough freed himself from the rope that bound his wrists and called police.

The couple, aged about sixty, told police they were confronted by the two men as they drove their car into its garage at the rear of their home. They were dragged from the car. Their hands and feet were bound with clothline and their mouths gagged with their mouths.

Victoria Refunding Bill Is Introduced In B.C. Legislature

Measure Provides for Conversion of City's Bonds To Thirty-Year Debentures—Board of Debt Retirement Funds Trustees to Be Set Up

VICTORIA City's Refunding Bill was introduced in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday by Hon. A. W. Gray, after its approval by the municipal committee of the House. A billiard of bills followed, all going to first reading, for explanation later. Amendments to probate and succession duty statutes were among the number.

Minor amendments to the Game Act, the Richmond Diking Act, the Land Settlement and Development Act, and an adjustment of interest and refunding bill for Merritt were other measures passed to first reading. Ministerial explanations will follow when the bills come up for second reading.

VICTORIA REFUNDING
The Victoria Refunding Bill would give leave to the City Council, without the assent of the electors, to issue refunding debentures maturing in 1966, and dated December 31, 1938, making provision for notice to holders of existing debentures, and other provisions as in the case of the previous refunding bills of past sessions. The measure incorporates the city's refunding scheme.

SUPPORT RIGHT TO ADVERTISE

Trades and Labor Council Oppose Action to Curb Liquor Advertising

VICTORIA and District Trades and Labor Council has endorsed a resolution of the Victoria Typographical Union protesting against any action by the Provincial Government to prohibit liquor advertising in the newspapers of British Columbia.

Action was taken by the printers after they had been advised a delegation of ministers was to interview the Government seeking legislation to ban advertising the wares of the Government-controlled business.

The Trades Council was advised curtailment of liquor advertising would seriously affect the printing trades and would force a number of printers out of work.

Delegates of the Trades Council took the stand liquor business in British Columbia was a legal undertaking, operated by the Government through established shops and warehouses and any attempt to restrict the advertising of legal commerce would infringe on the freedom of the press.

REFERENDUM IN AFRICA LIKELY

May Decide Question of Amalgamating Rhodesia And Nyasaland

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia, Dec. 2.—Prime Minister Godfrey Huggins indicated tonight a referendum might have to be taken if the Royal Commission at present investigating the question of amalgamating Southern Rhodesia with Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland decided the scheme feasible.

Mr. Huggins added a referendum also depended upon whether the Royal Commission suggested "conditions likely to be suitable to Southern Rhodesia."

On January 24, 1936, a convention of representatives of Southern Rhodesia and Northern Rhodesia, at Victoria Falls, adopted a resolution that the early amalgamation of Southern and Northern Rhodesia, under a constitution conferring the right of complete self government, was in the best interests of all the inhabitants of both territories.

Southern Rhodesia already is self governing, while Northern Rhodesia is administered by a governor responsible to the Colonial Office. The former is rich in mineral deposits, particularly gold, while Northern Rhodesia is mainly agricultural. Nyasaland, to the east of Northern Rhodesia, has been a British protectorate since 1891 and produces coffee, tobacco, cotton, tea and fibre.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

GOOD POSTURE BUILDS PHYSICAL AND MENTAL HEALTH

For a number of years I lectured to university graduates, men and women teachers in high and preparatory schools. I tried to impress

Moving Old Monuments

A Workman Preparing to Remove One of the Byron Monuments From the Old Colwick Church, Nottingham, Preparatory to Their Being Placed in Newcastle Abbey.

upon them the importance of having their students stand erect and so keep free of spinal curvature, round shoulders and other defects in posture.

I advised that when there was no examination by nurse or physician, they secure a mirror and let each student look at himself both sideways and facing the mirror; that if the student could see himself or herself as they actually stood, and then could see the great difference when they "stood tall" or erect, there would be cases of spinal curvature and round shoulders.

So strongly did I emphasize the value of developing the abdominal muscles in attaining the erect carriage, that in marking their examination papers it was not unusual in an answer regarding posture to come across the words printed, not written, "Develop the abdominal muscles."

That the development of the abdominal muscles is the biggest factor in attaining the erect carriage can be seen by standing sideways to a mirror and drawing in the abdomen, just as well developed abdominal muscles draw the chest stands out, the shoulders go back, and the spine becomes straight.

The simplest exercises to develop the abdominal muscles are: (a) trying to touch toes, knees kept straight, and (b) lying on the floor and raising legs, knees kept straight, to a right angle, that is forming two sides of a square with body and legs. The buttocks must not be raised off the floor when legs are raised.

There is nothing that gives one such a feeling of mental and physical health as the acquisition of a good posture.

When, however, it is found that there is a spinal curvature (and parents should take a look at the backs of their growing boys and girls) the family doctor should be consulted.

MORE RELIEF FOR HOLIDAY

Saanich, With Government Aid, Will Extend Work At Christmas

Those on relief in Saanich will have a brighter Christmas, as the result of action taken last evening by the municipal council.

Because the Government has undertaken to pay an extra day's relief at Christmas throughout the province, Councillor E. C. Warren suggested relief by the municipality be extended.

Christmas relief in 1936 cost Saanich $1,031, he said. This year, with the Government paying an extra day, it would only cost $320.

He informed the council that there had been a 15 per cent reduction in relief cases from last December, and urged that single men be given one day's extra work, a man supporting his wife and one dependent, one and a half days' extra work, and a man supporting a wife and two or more dependents, two days' extra work.

LITTLE EXTRA COST

The total cost for the extra work to the municipality will only be $876, which is considerably less than the cost of similar relief last December.

No work will be done on the day paid for by the Government.

The council again debated the matter of the Island View Beach development. They were informed by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce that the organization will lend support to the project, if the municipality will approach the Provincial Government to have the work done.

Since a certain amount of development in that area has been completed, which may be affected by storm and high water, the council decided to press the matter, and will place representations before the Provincial Government.

The Tillicum Road improvement by-law, setting aside certain lands for park purposes, received its final reading.

DRASTIC CHANGES IN ARMY COUNCIL

quarters, who felt the munitions position should have gone to an army man.

CARRIES OUT INTENTION

Appointment of General Liddell was in line with Mr. Hore-Bellisha's expressed intention to give the territorial army a more important status. The War Secretary told Parliament last month it was the intention to bring the territorial army up to the level of a regular force that could be used in the front line immediately on outbreak of war.

Lord Gort, who succeeds Field Marshal Devereil, was appointed military secretary to the War Minister in September with the local rank of lieutenant-general, less than two years after his promotion to the rank of major-general. He is fifty-one years old, and in the Great War won the Victoria Cross near Cambrai for setting a fine example of courage in carrying on his duties when severely wounded.

OTHER CHANGES

Other changes in the army announced tonight included:

Major-General A. F. Wavell, at present general officer commanding British forces in Palestine and Trans-Jordan, succeeds General Sir J. Burnett-Stuart as general officer commanding-in-chief the Southern command. General Burnett-Stuart is due to vacate the appointment in April, 1938.

Major-General R. H. Haining will succeed General Wavell in the Holy Land.

Field Marshal Devereil and General Knox and Elles all entered the army before the turn of the century.

MECHANIZATION EXPERT

General Elles' name is synonymous with tank warfare. He won fame at the first battle of Cambrai in 1917 when he personally led a charge of 450 tanks, which broke the German line. He has been the army's chief expert on mechanization.

Lord Gort has been in close personal contact with young, promising future staff officers because he recently held the post of commandant of Chamberley Staff College, where he became known as "The Tiger."

EXPLODING BOMB SCATTERS PARADE

Tanks and armored cars, escorted the Japanese through the settlement, while warplanes flew overhead.

Officially, the parade was described as a "transfer of troops from Jenfield to Hongkew" from the west of the International Settlement to its eastern part.

SYMBOLIC OF CONQUEST
Japanese officials and officers, however, said the procession was symbolic of Japanese conquests in China and of Japan's might.

Early today British troops—on guard duty at Jenfield, on the border of the western defence sector, where the parade entered the foreign area, removed barbed wire barricades under direction of Major-General A. P. D. Teller-Smollett, commanding British troops here.

When the parade passed the outpost a British squad turned out and presented arms in accordance with military courtesy.

POLICE LINE ROUTE
British, Chinese and Sikh police lined the route of march and police patrol cars were stationed at intervals to guard against possible incidents. The parade took thirty minutes to pass a given point.

On the westward-moving battlefront between Shanghai and Nanking the war was fought mostly in the air. Japanese reported a victory over Nanking, where they said six Japanese pursuit planes shot down thirteen Russian-made planes recently added to the Chinese air forces.

Chinese dispatches from Hangchow, capital of Chekiang Province, reported more than 1,000 Chinese civilians were killed or wounded in a Japanese air raid on nearby Hsiao-shan. The Chinese said 1,100 buildings were destroyed and 500 dead or injured persons already had been taken from the debris.

RAID ON SHANGHAI
Two Chinese warplanes made the first air raid on Shanghai in over a month, trying to hit Japanese positions, but apparently without damage.

A Japanese communiqué said Japan's land forces were making "slow but satisfactory progress" along the battlefronts fifty to eighty miles east and southeast of Nanking, nearly deserted Chinese capital, and Wuhu, sixty miles to the southwest.

WAITING UNTIL MOON IS FULL

Sir Hubert Wilkins Will Begin His Search on December 10

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 2 (AP).—Sir Hubert Wilkins, wireless from Aklavik, N.W.T., today he plans to hop off while the Arctic moon is full, December 10 to 26, to search for the Russian trans-Polar plane and its crew of six, missing since August 13.

Winter is a period of little or no sunlight north of the Arctic Circle. Wilkins also informed M. B. Wellaker, Russian representative here, he planned a test flight over Beaufort Sea today and Point Barrow within a few days.

CHANGES ARE MADE IN ZONING RULES

Some amendments to the zoning regulations of Oak Bay were approved by the municipal council yesterday afternoon. In less than fifteen minutes, the council concluded its preliminary sitting to hear any objections, but with no one appearing to offer any fault with the proposed changes, and had resolved itself into the regular sitting of the council and approved of the by-law. The amendments will be introduced in due course into the zoning by-law.

The main feature in the amendments sections dealt with the classification of firehalls as being included among municipal buildings and allowing them to be treated as such in every way. This became necessary in view of the recent decision to provide for a municipal firehall in the district. A further amendment requires the owner of property to produce a certificate of a British Columbia land surveyor where it is required to prove the bounds of his property. It is set out that a building permit issued to the owner by the municipality shall not grant any relief to the owner.

Emergency Session of Ontario Legislature May Prorogue Today

Amendments to Succession Duty Legislation Given Second Reading After Brief Debate—Conservatives Oppose Proposals to Exempt Ministers

TORONTO, Dec. 2 (AP).—Prorogation of the special session of the Ontario Legislature tomorrow was assured today when three Government measures, only bills before the House, received second reading and passed through committee stages in less than two hours.

The Government made a drastic change in one of the bills by which it hopes to speed up collection of succession duties from estates to which clearances have been given. The Act to Amend the Judicature Act was amended by Attorney-General Conant to make the immunity to legal process apply only to succession duty proceedings.

LEADS OPPOSITION—Leopold Macaulay, Conservative House leader, led in opposition to the measure exempting ministers, their representatives and appointees, in private or public capacity, from all judicial process arising from actions taken in pursuance of an act of the Legislature.

Mr. Conant announced today on second reading, taken without recorded division, but with all Con-

ANTIQUES GO TO ARCHIVES

Historic Relics From Tolmie Home Are Acquired For Province

Several valuable relics, rich in historical associations, from the collection of the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie have been acquired for the province by the Government, and will be exhibited in the Provincial Archives.

The antiques acquired comprise the "T" branding iron from the Tolmie farm at Cloverdale, a griddle which hung for many years in the Tolmie kitchen; an old half-bushel Hudson's Bay measure, and the suite of Georgian dining-room furniture, consisting of a mahogany table and six chairs, formerly used in the bachelors' hall in Fort Victoria.

Of particular interest is the kitchen griddle, made from the original boiler of the Hudson's Bay Company steamer Beaver. The griddle was made in 1846 at Niagara, where Dr. Tolmie was in charge as chief factor of a subsidiary company of the Hudson's Bay.

As far as is known, the griddle represents the only fragment of the original boiler of the Beaver in existence, though there are several

Weddings

RICHARDSON-MERRETT
The marriage took place yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, between Susan Rose, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Merrett, Victoria, formerly of Gibbo, Sask., and Mr. Alec Vernon Richardson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Richardson, Sooke.

Rev. S. Ryall solemnized the marriage in a seasonable setting of white chrysanthemums and greenery. Miss Florence Philmore, a family friend, played the wedding march.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a striking frock of American Beauty chiffon velvet, cut on princess lines, with long shirred sleeves, and trimmed with a collar and cuffs of white lace. She also wore a black halo hat trimmed with flowers to match the gown, and a short veil and a corsage spray of orange blossoms. Miss Mabel Merrett was her sister's bridesmaid, in a frock of black crepe, with long full sleeves, and trimmed at the high neck with gold sequins. She also wore a black and gold hat. Mr. William Pendray was the best man. A reception was held later at the home of the bride's parents on Ruby Road, where the tea table was arranged with white and gold chrysanthemums and centred with the wedding cake.

After a honeymoon trip to Seattle, for which the bride donned a wine shade overcoat with a grey fur collar, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson will take up residence at Duncan.

VICTORIA-MADE PICTURE SHOWN

"Fury and the Woman" Has Grand Opening at Oak
Bay Theatre

Oak Bay Theatre went "big time" last night with the premiere of the Victoria-made production, "Fury and the Woman," and showed to a capacity audience, with Owner-Manager Ray F. Castle occupying honor place with members of the cast and a number of Hollywood stars now at work on another Victoria-produced picture.

Mr. Castle introduced Kenneth Bishop, head of Central Films, Limited, which is producing motion pictures here on the British quota system. Mr. Bishop presented Rita Hayworth, Charles Quigley and George McKay, from Hollywood and who are working on a picture here. He also introduced James McGrath, Victoria actor, who played "Kinky" in the cast; Reginald Hindle, another Victoria player who is with Central Films.

Mr. McKay arranged a unique spotlight feature by selecting for introduction Hollywood players in the audience. Miss Doreen McGregor, who has caught the eye of producers, was given big applause when presented. Miss Hayworth was given a bouquet. Another innovation was the arrangement of the front of the theatre, which has been transformed to resemble a British Columbia logging camp, complete with canteen and all. The camp will stay in the lobby for the full run of the picture.

Trawler Back at Boston With Bow And Plates Torn

BOSTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—The trawler Wildgoose, her bow twisted and plates torn above the waterline, came back to Boston today after a collision forty-two miles east of this port early today with the Portland-Baltimore steamship Charles Christenson.

Neither vessel asked coast guard assistance, though the Christenson reported to the Radio Marine Corporation of America she was taking "a little water" in No. 4 hold. The steamer proceeded to Baltimore, shipping officials here reported.

GOVERNMENT IS KEPT ON DEFENSIVE

Dr. J. J. Gillis (Liberal, Yale), supported Dr. Patterson, saying he was in accord with what the leader of the Opposition had said. Social diseases had lessened materially in the last ten years, due to a number of conditions, the reduction being estimated at 18 per cent in certain types of cases.

Nothing more damaging to the credit of the Province had been said than the assertions of the Provincial Secretary on this issue, R. L. Maitland, K.C. (Conservative, Point Grey), contended, and there the issue rested.

Mrs. R. P. Blevins (C.C.F., North Vancouver), renewed her annual plea for establishment of birth control clinics in British Columbia. The Government did not reply. E. E. Winch (C.C.F., Burnaby), wanted construction of a psychiatric hospital and more attention to mental cases. Funds were not available, he was told.

Lumped votes of over $500,000 listed for "sundry employees" in the Provincial Secretary's Department were challenged by Herbert Anson (Conservative, Victoria), and Dr. Patterson, Opposition Leader. The explanation was given these were for attendants and help at mental institutions.

PENSIONS IN EFFECT
Hon. G. S. Pearson, in reply to question, said delay in instituting pensions for the blind was regretted, but that the system would start now in British Columbia, with pensions available as from December 1, by Federal-provincial arrangement.

Mr. Maitland asked that $25,000 asked for organization under the Health Insurance Act be stood over. The vote was stood over. He challenged, also, a vote for $150,000 in the Lands Department for expenses, including launches. The Lands Department operates thirty-eight launches, and all of them on forestry work, he was told.

To further questions Hon. A. W. Gray responded that changes in the Forest Act would be brought in dealing with slash disposal, and that was planned to increase the assessment on private timber lands this year from three and one-third cents to four cents per acre, or by $30,000 additional. What else the Government proposed on forestry was not volunteered.

J. A. Paton (Conservative, Point Grey), questioned a number of votes as did Captain M. P. Macintosh (Conservative, The Islands), Captain Macintosh eliciting the fact that the Province reforested seventy-five acres this year, and 3,000 acres since 1929.

URGES REFORESTATION
The vote for forest nurseries this year is increased $2,000 to $15,000. Captain Macintosh asked assurance that this did not end reforestation efforts. The Government refused to be drawn on its plans, and swept on with votes following.

The House got into votes in the Mines Department by mistake, and had a brief clash on coal prices before resuming on estimates in the Department of Finance. Economic Council reports citing coal at $2.30 a ton in Alberta were piled prices, Dr. Patterson, renewed his plea for raising the issue. Under finance, the Government repeated it had nothing to say about refunding, beyond explanations already given.

Municipal aid was brought up in debate by Mr. Paton, Samuel Guthrie (C.C.F., Cowichan-Newcastle) and others. Every time it was mentioned, it was ruled out of order, as not relevant to the vote. Frequent clashes followed, with R. H. Carson, deputy speaker, in the chair.

The Government pulled estimates out of discussion at 6 p.m. after an animated period. Introduction of new bills followed. The House rose at 6:05 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. today.

LANDS DEPARTMENT

Estimates in the Department of Lands require $1,327,547, compared with $1,285,883 in the past year budget, and estimated revenues of $1,389,000 in the year to come. The main votes are: Salaries, $491,902; forest protection fund, $440,000 (up $60,000); miscellaneous votes, $182,000; general expenses, $150,000; forest reserve account, $66,000; minister's office, $11,145; and range improvement fund, $5,000.

Some small salary increases show in the votes, and some additions to staff. Of total salaries of $461,792 in the Forest Branch, $100,811 is charged to the forest protection fund, $26,420 to the forest reserve account, and $82,812 to the scaling fund. Provision is made for a grant of $4,900 to the Canadian Forestry Association.

Other repeated votes include $25,000 for water surveys, up $5,000; $10,000 for cruising; $14,000 for forest research; $15,000 for reforestation and nursery work; $5,000 for hydrometric service; $37,000 under Soldiers' Land Act, and $45,000 for maps and surveys, up $7,500; $3,000 for provincial parks, $1,500 for contingencies, and $1,000 for publicity.

FINANCE

Estimates in the Department of Finance, a revenue branch, will require $1,285,883, compared with $1,943,240 in the previous budget. Main items include the statutory grant of $370,000 in motor vehicle receipts to the municipalities; $305,000 in interest on superannuation and pension funds; $672,083 for Government agents and assessors; $132,932 for the taxation branch; $76,606 for the controlling and audit branch; $54,130 for the general branch; $39,370 for the general office; $25,440 for probate and succession duty offices; $12,015 net for the British Columbia Agent-General's office, and $13,900 for the minister's office.

Small salary increases are shown in one or two votes, with some addition of isolated auditors and other clerical help. The Vancouver agency will require $195,700, and the Victoria assessment office $24,295. Postage will cost the Government $50,000. Printing, $10,000; delinquent extra-municipal school taxes, $25,000; and contingencies, $5,000. There are repeated the customary grants of $800 to the city of Greenwood, and $9,600 to the city of Rosedale.

Mr Gordon showed them through the building and explained many interesting things about the weather, earthquakes, etc. The president, Bert Simpson gave a vote of thanks to Mr Gordon. From there the group went to Mrs Marshall's home and enjoyed games and refreshments. Jim Robson thanked Mrs Marshall, and the meeting closed with the singing of "Abide With Me." Bert Simpson announced that next week the theme for the evening would be "Where Do We Go From Here?" with four of the young people taking part.

I.O.D.E. Activities

Cowichan
Cowichan Chapter, Duncan, held a meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. E. Donald. Mrs. N. E. Buddaby, the recent, presided and there was a good attendance. New members joining include Mrs. P. T. Skrimshire, Mrs. R. W. Whidden and Mrs. F. R. Mortimore. The sum of $5 was voted to the local Christmas cheer fund. Fifty-five new books will be given to the public school library as a permanent reminder of a successful provincial meeting held at Duncan recently. A bundle of warm bedding and sheets will be sent to a needy family in the Peace River district, the chapter having got in touch with the family through the Health Centre. They will also receive a Christmas parcel. Fifteen I.O.D.E. calendars will be given to schools in the district and as far south as Malahat. The chapter also purchased Christmas seals in aid of the anti-tuberculosis campaign. Mrs.

Buddaby gave a report on the recent welcome party at Fairbridge Farm School, in which Cowichan was joined by other Up-Island chapters. During the Empire study period, the recent read an interesting paper on early explorations on the Pacific Coast and a description of the memorial erected to Captain Cook at Nootka.

Pottinger in her Echoes report to write the names of ex-servicemen's families needing help to Mrs. C. W. Plumb. The chapter unanimously supported Mrs. A. B. Christie, the regent, in her nomination for school trustee. The treasurer was empowered to pay all bills to the end of the year. A sum of money was voted for the Bussie Sorabji Memorial Fund. Miss Crease read extracts from a former member of the chapter, Mrs. John Rogers, now living in London. The Echoes secretary was asked to write to her and send an I.O.D.E. calendar. Bussie wishes for her daughter's recovery to normal health. Mrs. Matheson read the Girl Guides report. The secretary, Mrs. Bertha Parkinson, read the provincial executive report and a letter of thanks from Miss Josephine Tolmie for sympathy expressed to her in the death of her brother, the late Hon. Dr. B. F. Tolmie.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

MAY HOLD UP
NEW VESSELSFull Control of One Proposed Liner Sought by New Zealand

LONDON, Dec. 2 (U.P.)—Hector Bywater, writing in The Daily Telegraph, today said construction of two "luxury" liners for the Canadian-Australasian service, approved at the Imperial Conference this summer, was in danger of being held up indefinitely by a complication raised by New Zealand. He declared the New Zealand Government was endeavoring to have one of the ships registered in that Dominion to bring the liner under its own rules in regard to conditions of labor and pay, which the New Zealand Labor Government claims are the best in the world.

Mr. Bywater, the paper's naval correspondent, said the proposal was opposed by Canada, Australia and the United Kingdom on the grounds it would create administrative difficulties. Meanwhile, the writer added, shipbuilding costs are mounting steadily, and it is doubtful that the ship could now be built for the original estimate of £1,500,000 (£7,483,125) each.

FLYERS GIVEN
UP FOR DEADArctic Aviator Is of Opinion Levanefsky and Companions Are No More

MOSCOW, Dec. 2 (U.P.)—Sigismund Levanefsky and five companions, who vanished last August 13 on a trans-Polar flight from Moscow toward the United States, were given up for dead today by Mikhail Vodopyanoff, Russian Arctic flyer.

Upon his return from an extended search of the icy wastes in which the Levanefsky plane disappeared, he said four search planes were remaining at Rudolph's Island to hunt for plane wreckage as soon as conditions are favorable. Vodopyanoff still is convinced a regular trans-Polar air line between Soviet Russia and the United States may be established within a year or two as a result of successful previous flights over the route.

"This depends partly on co-operation of the United States and Canada in providing landing fields on their side of the Pole," he said.

SHIP SAILING
AS FREIGHTERPresident Grant Can Only
Carry Twelve Passengers
Across Pacific

When she leaves here tomorrow evening for the Philippines by way of Japan and China ports, the American Mail Line S. S. President Grant will carry only twelve passengers. The big liner, commanded by Captain H. B. Clark, U.S.N.R., is making the long voyage to Manila and back as a freighter, not having been able to comply with the new safety-at-sea regulations made compulsory by the United States Government.

NEW RECORD

Export of British Columbia apples from the port of New Westminster hit a record for the season up to November 30 with a total of 452,241 boxes. Last year at the same time, the export of British Columbia apples was 331,798 boxes. Last year, however, an additional 200,000 boxes were diverted to the Fraser River port from the United States owing to the maritime strike. Two large shipments were made, S. S. Fresno Star taking 45,000 boxes and the S. S. Nalon, 41,000 boxes.

LARGE CARGO

Inbound from European ports, the crack Fruit Express Lines' full refrigerated motorliner Washington Express is due at Mainland ports this evening. The Washington Express will load a total of forty-two cars of Okanagan apples for delivery at Havre, Rotterdam, London, Liverpool and Glasgow. Canadian marine services require the largest staff of any of the branches of the Department of Transport, R. K. Smith, director of marine services, told the transportation bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade during the week. The services employ 3,000 persons.

GIANT GRAVING
DOCK IS READYCompletion of Entire Singapore Project Now "Only Matter of Months"

SINGAPORE, Dec. 2 (U.P.)—A giant graving dock at Singapore's naval base—large enough to accommodate the biggest capital ship afloat—is now ready for use. (The dock is 1,000 feet long and 130 feet wide. It is twenty-five feet longer and twelve feet wider than the liner Queen Mary.)

The dock has been described as one of the world's finest engineering feats, and completion of the entire Singapore naval base is now authoritatively stated to be "little more than a matter of months."

Total estimate of the cost of construction has been raised to £11,000,000 ($54,945,000), the amount to be spent this year being $6,600,000.

PREPARE TO RAISE SHIPDivers Succeed in Fitting
Slings Around Submerged
Freighter Eastholm

VANCOUVER, Dec. 2 (U.P.)—Towing and salvage company officials tonight reported work had progressed "satisfactorily" in preparations to raise the coastal freighter Eastholm, which sank in English Bay after a collision last night with a lumber barge in the First Narrows, entrance to Vancouver Harbor.

Divers, working from the Gulf of Georgia Towing Company tug Goblind and Gryphon, succeeded in getting a sling around the vessel's bow today, and other slings will be placed in position tomorrow. Officials said they believed the West Coast Salvage Company's derrick scow Cherryplecker would be able to raise the freighter tomorrow and tow her to drydock in False Creek. She is now lying in seventy-five feet of water about a quarter of a mile from shore.

The Eastholm, owned by Frank Waterhouse & Company of Vancouver, was leaving here for Seattle with a cargo of canned salmon and hides when she struck the lumber barge in a dense fog. A large hole was torn in the vessel's bow, and the crew took to the lifeboats when the ship began to tilt rapidly. They were picked up and brought to Vancouver by the coastal steamer Venture, attracted to the scene by their shouts and flashlight signals.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that the unwatched light on Mexicana Point, Coiletas Channel, is reported not burning. This will be attended to as soon as possible.

In the City of TOMORROW

—Pedestrians
won't tie up traffic at Street Crossings

predicts NORMAN BEL GEDDES, authority on future trends

"By 1960, elevated sidewalks will take pedestrians off the streets," says Mr. Geddes. "You will walk above traffic... shop at the second-story level... cross streets on conveniently located bridges."

"The space saved by eliminating sidewalks and parked cars from traffic levels will allow full-width roadways. Open areas beneath buildings will provide parking space and facilities for truck loading."

"You will speed 50 miles an hour down Express Streets when driving 10 blocks or more. No stop lights... no intersections..."

...but TODAY,
4 miles in 5 are Stop and Go

EVERY TIME you stop your car, you waste gasoline. One stop can waste enough to drive a third of a mile... and if you're an average driver, you stop 30 times a day!

The costliest kind of driving you do is stop and go!

While traffic authorities are planning "the City of Tomorrow," Shell engineers have developed a fuel... Super-Shell... to meet today's driving problem today.

They have found a way to rearrange the chemical structure of gasoline... actually to balance it.

Automotive engineers use the term "motor-digestible" to describe Super-Shell, because at all motor speeds it is converted so quickly, so completely into power.

Regular use of Super-Shell will save you money. A Shell dealer is near you.

PLANE LANDS AT HAMILTON FIELD

Huge Boeing Flying Fortress Will Get Further Tests by United States Army Experts

HAMILTON FIELD, Calif., Dec. 2.—The United States Army Air Corps' four-motored "flying fortress," an experimental plane built by the Boeing Company, landed here today, en route from Seattle to Wright Field, Dayton, O.

The craft, said to be the world's largest land military plane, left Seattle this morning.

The ship, built by Boeing Aircraft Company for the United States Army, has completed tests covering fourteen hops for a total of sixteen hours in the air. It is an experimental ship, built under contract for the air corps. It will be tested further at Wright Field.

The all-metal, mid-wing monoplane is powered by four 1,000-horsepower motors. It has a wing spread of 150 feet and is ninety feet long.

TELLS TROUBLE WITH SURVEYS

Rotarian Fred Butterfield Explains Effect of Loss of Fixed Points

Some "awful squabbles" are to be anticipated in the future owing to loss of survey points in the city of Victoria, Rotarian Fred Butterfield told the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday in the course of a brief classification talk entitled "Survey Reminiscences."

The great bugbear of all survey work was the matter of re-staking—of finding survey points that were lost—and in this respect Victoria was getting further and further into the quagmire of doubt, Mr. Butterfield said. He described as "shameful" the disregard for the preservation of survey points in the city. If one owned a lot in the old part of the city it was shown only on a little lithographed copy of the original plan, and on talk copy not one dimension was given.

SPECIAL ACT

In about 1880 the streets were becoming so confused that it was decided to straighten them out somewhat, and it was then found that all survey points had disappeared, Mr. Butterfield continued. He told of the changes in alignment that could be caused by "creeping" sidewalks and other influences, and spoke of a possible method of correcting the present position by recourse to a special act. This was a terrible judgement of legislation, however, and no one wanted to do it if it could be avoided.

"It is time something was done in Victoria as far as the public is concerned, for there is no question that it is affecting the pockets of everyone," Mr. Butterfield declared. There were no fixed governing points, he explained, and the problem could be solved if such points were established in rock or concrete in places where no one could tamper with them. Local knowledge was essential in this work; it was not a question merely of making measurements, but of knowledge of what had gone before.

OWNERSHIP QUESTION

"Here is a question for you: Who owns survey points? If you can answer that you are a better man than I am," the speaker concluded. Mr. Butterfield gave many interesting reminiscences of the great hardships of surveying, especially on the Coast in pre-war days, and remarked that times had changed greatly since then.

Rotarian George J. Alexander read an instructive paper on the past and history of Newfoundland, prepared by Rotarian Kenneth McCannell, who was unable to be present.

Plans for the Christmas smoking concert for members, which will be held in the clubroom on Wednesday, December 22, at 8 p.m., were made at a committee meeting last evening. A good programme is being arranged. Those comprising the committee are George Renton, chairman; H. Temple, P. Beaven, E. Mitchell, S. Ruffel and H. Caton.

The annual Christmas tree for members' children will be held in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Broad Street, on Thursday, December 23, between 2 and 6 o'clock. Refreshments will be provided for the mothers and their kiddies.

H. Temple will fill the role of Santa Claus, while an entertainment programme will be given. George Renton is the chairman of the committee, assisted by the following: J. Wilcomb, H. Temple, P. Beaven, J. Fieldhouse and B. Cryderman.

The unit's checker competition will be held in the clubrooms next Wednesday at 8 p.m.

In the rush of men who come into the district when gold is found, there is one Otto Kruger, who reveals that Miss Parker is really his daughter.

PRESENT VARIED ENTERTAINMENT

Magician Is Featured Performer In Concert at Citizens' Recreation Rooms

A mystifying display of sleight of hand and magic by Frank Merryfield, well-known Victoria conjurer, was the featured item of a varied and pleasing concert programme, the first of the Winter series, given in the Citizens' Recreation Rooms, Fort Street, Wednesday night. There were many novel and amusing items, and all were greeted with rounds of applause by an audience numbering about 100, which voted by unanimous show of hands for another concert early in January. Keeping up an amusing patter, Mr. Merryfield entertained the gathering for nearly an hour, performing a great number of puzzling tricks, and concluding his contribution to the evening's enjoyment by a spectacular escape from a strait-jacket.

A. H. Hundieby, chairman of the concert, led community singing, with Cecil Heaton at the piano, and Mr. Heaton also contributed piano solos. T. Lavery, with his one-man band, was a popular performer, and the whistle solo by Len Foster were greatly enjoyed, as were tap-dance by Ray Hunt. The appearance of the amusing "Arabian Bronco" (S. Fieldhouse and Ray Hunt) brought a delightful programme to a close.

WHERE TO START

The modern housewife was telling her husband what a lot of work she had to do. "I've the rugs to shake, grass to clean, brasses to do, dinner and tea to get ready, and I've to go to my bed. I think I'll go to my bed first."

TIME OUT! - - - By Chet Smith

"Hey, Coach—I Got Him—Now What?"

LIFE'S LIKE THAT - By Fred Neher

"Why Didn't Ya Tell Me We Were Havin' Turkey for Thanksgiving!"

Jane Dixon Says:

A SCHOOLBOY OF EIGHTEEN IS VERY MUCH AFRAID THAT HIS GIRL FRIEND, WHO IS ENGAGED TO A SAILOR, LOVES THE GLAMOR OF THE NAVY MORE THAN SHE LOVES THE MAN.

When we are young, we have our right to romance. Youth is the time for dreams of love and for the thrill of dreams.

"Dear Jane Dixon: I have a girl friend in school. She is eighteen. For the last two years she has been wearing a diamond engagement ring. She is very fine looking and has a swell personality. She could get about any boy friend she wanted, but she is loyal to her sailor."

"The sailor seems to be all right, twenty-odd years old. Her folks like him and he gets her anything she wants while he is in port. Several of her close friends are married to sailors."

"Personally I think she is more in love with the idea than she is with the man. She doesn't have such a good time for the reason that all the boys know she is engaged, so they don't ask her places."

"She has good possibilities in music and in art."

"I think that if she could be influenced to wait for four years she would know whether she really cares for her sailor."

"I also want to mention that when he arrives in port he gets paid and can give her a good time as long as he's there, maybe a month. But I'm afraid she figures he can give her a good time all the time once they are married. What is your answer to this puzzle?—F.K."

Comment: You have presented your problem to the wrong authority for the answer you would like to get. I am not married to a sailor, but to a soldier, and if life was any sweeter to me than it has been as the wife of a service man I'm afraid I couldn't bear it.

I was in love with the sailor, too, when I married into it, but also I was in love with the soldier. When a combination like this comes along you cannot beat it.

Be a regular young man and play the game straight. You have so much advantage—the long absence of the sailor on duty—to counter-balance the romantic attraction of his service.

Do not worry about her idea of a good time all the time. If she is an intelligent woman, she knows life is not that way. When we marry into the service we take our good times when we can get them, but we are prepared to give to service more than we get.

CHAPTER XLII

"We are," she said.
She looked at him. "We are?"
"Most decidedly; a holiday will do you good, and besides—it will please the old lady,"
"I don't want to please her," Syrie said obstinately.
"Then you'll go to please me," he answered.
"And if I refuse?" she asked tensely.
"You won't refuse—you're going to do as you're told for once."
"You promised me you'd—end all this—it will only be making it worse if we—if we go."
"It will make it easier," he said enigmatically.
She laid a hand on his coat sleeve. "Robert—if I ask you not to."

No good, my dear."
She was silent for a moment, then she urged, "Well, you go and let me stay at home."
There was no reply to that, and she went on, "I shall be quite all right, if you'll let me stay, and Miss Harwood doesn't really want me."
"If I go, you will go, too."
"Oh, but why? Surely you can trust me to look after myself."
"It's not you I don't trust,"
"Not me—then?"
He turned his head to look at her.
"Yes, you're right," he said evenly.
"It's Loder I don't trust."
Syrie drew back from him.
"That's an insult to me," she said sharply.

"Is it? I'm sorry if you take it that way, but the fact remains that while you're nominally—my wife, I'm not having another man hanging around."
She said indignantly, "He's never been near me—or tried to see me."
"He knows better," Robert said dourly. "But if I were out of the way—well, we won't argue about it.
You're going with me to Cornwall."
There was a profound silence.
Syrie said with an attempt at bravado, "You accused me once of being jealous. It rather looks now as if you are." As he did not speak, she said, "Did you hear what I said?"

"Yes, I heard," he said calmly.
"But such a foolish remark doesn't require an answer."
Syrie sank back in her seat, her hands tightly clasped in her lap.
"I'm not going to Cornwall," she said.

Syrie bought a new frock for Joan Baker's party. She knew that Robert would probably think it was all for Basil Loder's benefit, but her real concern was to look her best in Joan's presence.
It chilled her to find that Robert seemed quite unconscious of the trouble she had taken. There had been a certain feeling of constraint between them since the night they dined with Miss Harwood, and although Robert had outwardly been quite good tempered and friendly, Syrie knew there was a hard spot in his thoughts which was doing his best to hide.

In silence, too, they drove to the new house where Joan lived, and still without speaking, they climbed the narrow staircase to the flat. A gramophone was playing a lively tune and there was much laughter and talking. Joan broke away from a little group of which Basil Loder was one, to greet them. "You're late," she said with a smile. "Everyone else is here."

"You know my wife," Robert said.
"Of course." She gave Syrie her hand. "How perfectly charming you look."

Basil Loder joined them saying,
"Hello, Harwood." Robert said good evening rather curtly and walked away, and Basil turned to Syrie.
"You haven't been here before, have you? It's great fun. Nothing formal—we all do as we please.
Joan has cleared out the other room so that we can dance. He lowered his voice to say, "It seems a lifetime since we met."

"Is Mrs. Loder here?" Syrie asked.
"No."
He led her down the room to a long buffet which was spread with all sorts of snacks and various kinds of drinks. Syrie looked round nervously. Loder brought up one or two men who looked at Syrie ad-miringly, and presently she found herself dancing with a youth who informed her that she was the best dancer he had ever met.

She glanced across the room to where Robert was talking to Joan, and as she looked he suddenly picked up a tumbler and rapped on

WOMAN'S RIGHT TO BE ADMIRER

To Have Charm—Vitality—
A Good Figure

"Fruit-a-tives," fruit liver tablets will help you tremendously to hold attractiveness.
Good skin, attractive personality, and a nice figure depend on whether your liver is healthy or not. If it is not strong and active you're bound to be too fat, flabby, pasty faced, dull, lazy. Soon your attraction will go. A healthy liver keeps the blood pure, keeps your blood pure, skin good, supplies energy.
"Fruit-a-tives" made from fruits and herbs is the quick, safe and most natural way of keeping your liver in good health. These small of women take "Fruit-a-tives" to keep attractive. Try them. 25c., 50c. all druggists.

FRUIT-A-TIVES LIVER TABLETS

the table for silence.
"Ladies and gentlemen—this is an anniversary," he said. "It is our hostess' birthday—twenty-one today, and so I give you the toast
... Many happy returns."
"She's more than twenty-one," Syrie's partner said. "That's just his job."

Everyone was drinking Joan's health, and suddenly Robert put his arm round her waist and kissed her. "Many happy returns of the day," he said again.

Everyone laughed and clapped, and Joan flushed vividly. "That's a treat I didn't expect," she said lightly.
Syrie put down her glass. "Shall we go on dancing?" she asked.

"Jealous!" She knew the meaning of the word well enough now, and her heart seemed to be beating up in her throat, choking her.
Loder joined them. "My dance," he said in his easy way. "You can't monopolize the flower of the flock all night, you know, Benet."

He whirled Syrie away. The room was uncomfortably crowded and presently he led her out on to the stairs. "We can go out and walk about if you'd like some air," he said.

"It's frightfully hot," she admitted.
He took her hand and they went down the stairs and out into the deserted mews. Suddenly he drew her closer to ask, "Are you glad to see me?" She did not answer, and he said, "I've thought about you every moment since we last met."

She laughed. "Why do people always want a thing they know they can't get?"
"If that is meant for me," he said,
"I am not sure—yet—that I can't get you."

He drew her hand through his arm and they began to walk slowly up and down. Syrie's thoughts were far away and wherever she looked she seemed to see Robert's face as he bent to kiss Joan Baker.
How often had he kissed her before?
Had he ever been in love with her, or she with him? A thousand tormenting questions passed through her mind.

The hand resting on Loder's arm suddenly clenched; the man and the girl who had just come down the steep stairs from the flat were Robert and Joan—they were holding hands!

How It STARTED
NEW METHOD

MISSOURI — "MUDDY WATER" OR "WOODEN CANOE"

"I come," said Congressman Van-dive, of Missouri, before the Five Clock Club in Philadelphia in 1899, "from a country that raises corn, cotton, cockleburrs and Democrats. I'm from Missouri, and you have got to show me."

On this occasion Willard D. Van-dive was a Congressman; otherwise, he would have bragged about Missouri's metals, its Iron Mountain, its Ozarks, its jog or panhandle district, its great similarity in many respects to the Quaker State, which caused it to be nicknamed the Pennsylvania of the West, and, last but not least, the still unsolved mystery surrounding the circumstances of Missouri's being so called, in connection with which the stories current are intensely interesting, though the determination of their truth has puzzled historians no end.

As has happened in many other instances, Missouri's state name was originally the designation of its chief river. According to one version, this was called by the indigenous Natchez Indians "Minnay Shoshoh Chiray," meaning in English,
"Water Muddy Hill," the "hill" referring to the country bordering part of the stream's shores.

When the French explorers came upon this body of water and heard the natives pronounce its name, they immediately started adopting the last four letters of the word of the first and second words and the first three letters of the last, they produced a combination much easier on the eye and ear, "Mis-shonay," which in time became Missouri.

Another version has it that the Missouri River, after which the state was named is so called after a tribe of Indians who lived upon its banks. The natives christened the river "Pekitanouli," "Muddy Water"—a significance which got itself wrongly associated with the name of both the river and state when they became known as Missouri.

Finally, there is ground for crediting the French explorer, Marquette, with having bestowed the Indian name, Pe-kita-nouli, to what we now know as the Missouri River. In 1712 this was changed by the Jesuit missionary of the Illinois Indians, Father Gabriel Marechal, to "Missouri"—which, so runs this particular tale, in the Illinois dialect of the Algonquin tribe, signifies "Wooden Canoe."

The mystery seems hermetically sealed.
